Exercise 19 Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully and answer in your form words the questions listed below:

'Amy,' said Constance, when she and the girl were along [there's no use in you standing there and weeping. Get to work and olear up that drawing-room, do! The child is sure to be Kound soon. Your master's gone out, too.

Brave words! Constance sided in the drawing room and Kitchen. Theirs was the woman's part in a great crisis. Plates have always to be washed.

Very shortly afterwards, Samuel revey came into the kitchen by the underground passage which led past the two cellars to the yard and to Brougham Street. He was carrying in his acme a black mass. This mass was Cyril, once white.

Constance screamed. She was at liberty to give way to her fielings, because Amy happened to be upstairs.

'Stand away! 'cried Mr. Povey. 'He isn't fit to wough. And Mr. Povey was about to pass directly onward, ignoring the mother

'Wherever did you find him?'

'I found him in the far cellar, 'said Mr. Povey, compelled to stop after all. 'He was down there with me yesterday, and it just occurred to me that he might have gone there again.

'What! All in the dark?"

"He'd lighted a candle. I'd left a candlestick and a box of untohes there. I'll look after him, I tell you!

But what are you going to do? Constance asked with fear "Well, " said Mr. Povey, 'hae this sort of thing got to be dealt with, or hasm't it?" He departed upstairs. His wife follows: him but he stepped into the passage and shut the door so that wail should not bear. 'Now please do as I tell you, no massed at his wife.

'Don't let's have a quarrel, please. She descended slowly, weeping, and Mr. Povey went back into the place of punishment. After about en hour Mr. Povey at last reappeared. Constance was trying to count silver teaspoons in the sitting-room,

'Be's in bed now, said Mr. Povey carelessly. You mustn's go near him.

But have you washed him? Constance weps.

"I've washed him, replied the astonishing Mr. Povey.

"What have you done to him?"

"I've punished him, of course, said Mr. Povey, like a god who is above human weaknesses. What did you expect me to do? Someone hadito do it.

Constance wiped her eyes. She accepted the situation and made the best of it. And all the evening she spent in sadly and horribly pretending that their hearts were beating as one. Mr. Povey's careful, cheery kindliness was extremely painful.

They went to bed, and in their bedroom Constance, as she stood close to Samuel, suddenly dropped the pretence, and with, eyes and voice of pain saids

"You must let me look at him."

They faced each other. For a moment Cyril did not exist for

B) PARALLEL LINES:

5) Two fundamental axioms: (i) Two coplanar st. lines either intersect or parallel, (ii) Two intersecting coplanar st. lines cannot both be parallel to a third st. line. (Playfair's Axiom)

6) If either (a) alt. (s equal, or (b) corr. (s equal, or (c) int./s supp., then, the two st. lines are parallel. 7) If a st. line cuts two or more parallel lines, then. (a) alt. /s equal, (b) corr. /s equal, (c) int. /s supp. B) Two or more st. lines which are parallel to the same st.line, are parallel to one another. 9) St. lines which are perpendicular to the same st. line are parallel to one another.

C) A PARALLELOGRAM:

10) opp. sides, //gram. (are equal) 11) opp. /s ,//gram. (are equal)

12) diag.,//gram. (bisect each other). 13) diag. of //gram bisects the //gram into two = ______. D) A QUADRILATERAL TO A PARALLELOGRAM:

14) opp. sides equal, or 15) opp. /s equal, or

16) diag. bisect each other, w 17) a pair of opp. sides. #

E) THEOREMS ON OTHER PROPERTIES OF A QUADRILATERAL 18) Rectangle, square and rhombus are //gram. such that (a) for a rect.: the diag. are equal(& bisect each other.) (b) for a sq.: the diag.are equal & bisect each other at rt/.

(c) for a rhombus: the diag. are perp. to each other. 19) In an isos, trapezium: (a) the diag, are equal; (b) the base /s are equal. 20) In a kite: one of the diag. bisects the other at rt./.

NOTE: RECT. == //GRAM. + rt/ SQ. = RECT. + ADJ. SIDES EQUAL, RHOMBUS == //GRAM. + ADJ. SIDES EQUAL.

EXAMPLE 1: In ABC, prove that the angle formed by the altitude with the angle bisector of A, equals half the difference of /B & /C.

SOLUTION: Given: in ABC, ADIBC

AE bisects _BAC, 1.v. a.+a.=a. To prove: \DAE=\frac{1}{B} - \cdot C Proof: In AABC, if B>/C (as shown)

• • $\angle BAE = \pm \angle BAC$ and $a = 90 - \angle B$ $\therefore a_{*}=\frac{1}{2}/BAC - (90-\frac{1}{2}B)$ = $\frac{1}{1}$ (180 - /B - /C) -(90- /B)

Conversely, if $\angle B < \angle C$, then E lies between B & D. 12=2(C - ZB). Honce. In particular, when B = C, \triangle ABC is then isosceles.

NOTICE IS- HEREBY GIVEN that an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company will be held at 422, Prince's Building, on Monday, 24th April, 1967 at 12.40 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the Ordinary General Meeting convened for the same date at 12.30 p.n shall have been con- BOARD OF DIRECTORS cluded, for the purpose of considering and if thought fit passing the following Resolution as a Special Resolution.

RESOLVED that with effect from the date of an appropriately amended certificate of incorporation issued by the Registrar of Companies and to be applied for immediately upon the passing of this resolution the name of the Company be changed from "The Vibro Piling and International Foundation Company Limited" to "Vibro (H.K.) Limited".

By Order of the Board, A Cel

HEREBY REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS—1966

GENERAL

1966 saw a continuation of the previous year's severe depression in the construction industry. Despite the basic strength of Vibro which enabled us to overcome the general conditions in the industry with considerable success during 1965 certain internal problems arose during 1966 which caused a temporary setback. As was indicated in our 1965 Report measures had been taken by the middle of the year to improve the situation. These measures were effective and whilst your Board had at that time anticipated the possibility of a considerable loss in 1966 shareholders will see hereunder that in fact this was not too severe.

ACCOUNTS

During the previous two years additions were made to our Reserve for Replacement of Plant Account by charge to the Working Account. This was discontinued after 31st December 1965. It is thought that, if the amounts set aside for this purpose are brought within the allocation of profits to a General Reserve Account, varying each year with the profits of the company, the accounts will give a clearer picture of the results. Accordingly, a General Reserve Account has now been created and it is intended that this shall cover the requirements in respect of which we have had individual reserves in the past. This being so, the final balances on the Reserves for Replacement of Plant and for Contingencies have been transferred to the General Reserve in the 1966 accounts.__

Due to the above mentioned difficulties and prevailing conditions an abnormally large amount of equipment was a idle during 1966 and in view of the adverse effect which this had upon our results it was decided that depreciation should not be taken on equipment in respect of idle periods as will be seen from the note attached to the Balance Sheet. The total depreciation provided in the accounts does nevertheless amount to $482,398; well over 10% of the net value of our fixed assets.

The above two factors should be taken into account in comparing the results of 1966 with the immediately previous years. Notiwithstanding this, the loss of $178,831 for the year is considerably less than anticipated at the time of our 1965 Report and must be considered satisfactory under the circumstances.

To off-set the above loss, $189,000 has been transferred back to Appropriation Account from the Reserve for Replacement of Plant prior to the transfer of the balance on the latter account to General Reserve. No dividend is proposed this year.

PROSPECTS

Being mailed at the same time as this Report is a letter concerning an offer of new shares to be made very shortly to shareholders. It is unnecessary to duplicate here the information contained in that letter save to say that it will be clear therefrom that the Board looks forward to an expanding and profitable future for the company.

In view of the company's diversification the present name is considered unsuitable and the Board proposes. that it be changed to Vibro (H.K.) Limited. Bound in with this Report there is a notice of an Extraordinary General Meeting which has been convened to follow immediately after the Annual General Meeting.

In accordance with Articles 81 and 82 Mr. A. M. Schreuders retires from the Board but being eligible offers himself for re-election.

In view of the result for the year the Board have agreed not to seek any remuneration for 1966.

AUDITORS

The accounts have been audited by Lowe, Bingham & Matthews who offer themselves for reappointment and a resolution fixing their remuneration and for their reappointment will be submitted to the Annual General Meeting.

LEO D'ALMADA, Chairman-

Hongkong, 4th March, 1967.

COPY OF LETTER TO SHAKEHULDERS

"RIGHTS" ISSUE OF NEW SHARES TO SHARE. HOLDERS

Issue of 471,042 Shares of $3 each at a price of $4 per share payable in full, in the proportion of 1 New Share for every 1 issued share held on 15th March 1967

Since the participation in the Company in early 1963 of The International Foundation Co., Ltd. with the simultaneous increase in the company's paid up capital by $600,000, there has been a constant expansion and improvement in the company.

Four years ago Vibro was in a weak and uncompetitive condition, lacking the requisite resources in both personnel and equipment. As an instance, the latter comprised little more than six sets of piling equipment all of which were partially obsolescent. Had a regeneration not taken place, it is questionable whether the company would have been able to retain a place in construction work despite generally booming conditions in the trade.

With the injection of fresh capital and a substantial strengthening of personnel, a regeneration did come about; and, though setbacks have occurred, the company has continued to grow in size and strength. Not only has Vibro survived the serious depression in the construction industry of the past two years: we have improved our competitive position and have also expanded and diversified our activities

Vibro now has 11 completely up-to-date sets of piling equipment, and is in a position to make piles which are dealy arried to Hongkong conditions.

Diversification has been into engineering work such as soil investigation, foundation and superstructure construction, site formation. road. bridge, water, drainage and utility works.

Negotiations are now going on for expansion of Vibro outside Hongkong. Also, the company acts for the large Nederhorst group, well-known internationally as construction engineers with Headquarters in Holland (the parent company of The International Foundation Co., Ltd.), and as such may expect to participate in any projects which the group may undertake in this area,

Following drastic reorganisation and much weeding out in every department the company now has an extremely well qualified and efficient staff. Strong systems of control over the company's operations have also been instituted. from which substantial benefits have already accrued.

Vibro is now a modern, well-organised company, giving services of the best quality in Hongkong at prices which are at the same time highly competitive. In piling parficularly it may be said that today Vibro makes the biggest and best driven pile in Hongkong at a price which cannot generally be matched even by inferior products. That this is so is evident from the fact that at a time when some of our competitors are going out of business Vibro has more work on hand than at any time in the company's

In our 1965 Report, shareholders were informed that the company had incurred a loss in the first half of 1966 and that a profit could not be expected in that year. Our 1966 Report is being mailed to shareholders at the same time as this letter and as will be seen from it, whilst in 1966 total depreciation charges were reduced due to idle plant and the Working Account ceased to be charged with reserves for plant replacement, the loss of $178,831 is nevertheless considerably less than anticipated at the time of our 1965 Report, and in view of the condition of the industry last year must be regarded as satisfactory. Aswas then indicated this setback was due to an internal problem which has now hear fully sattled

While we nave in past years manced a large part of the development and expansion of our operations out of heavy depreciation and other provisions, this is no longer possible by reason of the scope and nature of the further expansion which has recently been embarked upon. Further capital is required both for additional equipment and as working capital for new types of work in which we are and will be engaged, both here and outside Hongkong, ir respect of which there will be a slower return of working

Your Board is confident that, barring any unforeseen circumstances, the company should make a profit in 1967 even if there is no improvement in the general condition of the construction industry. Thereafter, plans in hand to take advantage of the present strength of the company, and the opportunities for further expansion which your Board foresees, are such that with the increased capital deriving from this issue the profitability of the company will fully justify the price of $4. per share at which shareholders will be invited to subscribe.

Provisional allotment letters will be mailed on 15th March, 1967, to shareholders registered on that date and the closing date of the issue will be 15th April, 1967.
